

This Quiet Night

This quiet night, now resting in obscurity
My little child is sleeping here so peacefully
The world outside has never seen this baby by my side
And yet its King is born to me this quiet night

This quiet night, the Son of God has come to earth
A single star proclaims this tiny baby's birth
And all who see his shining light and journey to his side
Will know their God is born to them this quiet night

Instrumental

This quiet night, a long-awaited peace is born
Within these walls, he gently sleeps until the dawn
This fragile dwelling-place will shelter all who come inside
The Prince of Peace is born to all this quiet night
