

We Do Not Presume

We do not presume to come to you
Trusting in ourselves
And yet you give to us the offer
To presume to come to you
Trusting in your mercy

*For you are the same Lord
Who died and rose again
Whose body was broken
Whose blood was shed
And so we eat and drink
These symbols of your love
Knowing that in you we are led to God*

Yes, you are the same Lord...

Knowing that in you we can come to God

Words and Music by Monique Lisbon
© MonoMusic 1997

This song comes from the cassette and songbook
Your Surprising Love
(© MonoMusic 1998)

To order this product,
click here